HMH Cares Council HIGHLIGHTS

Looking Back on a Year of Community Impact

HMH's Cares Councils are groups of employees who are passionate about giving back to their community. Cares Councils (CC) align with our major office locations and distribution centers across the U.S. and Ireland, including a Remote CC to connect homebased colleagues in the US. Every year, CC members utilize funding, training and support from the Corporate Social Responsibility team to engage fellow colleagues in volunteer opportunities and charitable campaigns, especially during HMH's annual Volunteer Week every fall.

Cares Councils not only provide a platform for HMH employees to give back to the communities in which they live and work, but also help strengthen company culture and provide members with professional development opportunities.
